

PROPHECY UPDATE 201
“WE WILL NOT LISTEN!”
PART 1

Welcome to our twenty-fifty prophecy update and I don't know if you are seeing this, but I see things spiraling faster and faster toward the start of the Day of Jacob's Trouble or what we know it as, THE SEVEN YEAR TRIBULATION PERIOD!

Now please understand that I did not say that things are spinning out of control, like some would say and believe. Even some Christians feel this way as we see the downward trend away from morality and into immorality!

But they are not spinning out of control, they are happening just as the Lord has told us and warned us!

I think far too often we hear prophecy teachers speaking of the gloom and doom of what is happening and what is ahead, but they miss the point. And before we even begin to look at what is going on in the world, I want you to understand that our hope is NEVER in this world, but our hope must always be in the LORD!

Let me ask you this question. Why has the Lord told us what is going to happen before it happens?

There are several things we can say regarding this. But let me just share with you what the Lord has to say in Isaiah 44:6-8. We are told, “Thus says the Lord, the King of Israel, And his Redeemer, the Lord of hosts: ‘I am the First and I am the Last; Besides Me there is no God. And who can proclaim as I do? Then let him declare it and set it in order for Me, Since I appointed the ancient people. And the things that are coming and shall come, Let them show these to them. Do not fear, nor be afraid; Have I not told you from that time, and declared it? You are My witnesses. Is there a God besides Me? Indeed there is no other Rock; I know not one.’”

First of all, God uses prophecy or speaking forth the things that will come to pass before they happen to show us that He is God!

In fact, He challenges others to try to do this with 100% accuracy and there are NONE who can do that like the Lord. In fact, just related to the first coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, it is beyond any mathematical probability.

Listen to what I mean. For just 8 of the over 300 prophecies of Jesus related to His first coming to come to pass in any one man, it would be 1 in 10^{17} ! (That would be 1 with 17 zeros after the one)

And for just 48 prophecies to come to pass, it would be 1 in 10^{157} !

Now I know, that is hard to comprehend, so let me help you out on this. We are told,

The electron is about as small an object as we know of. It is so small that it will take 2.5 times 10^{15} of them laid side by side to make a line, single file, one inch long. If we were going to count the electrons in this line one inch long, and counted day and night, it would take us 19,000,000 years to count just the one-inch of these electrons.

If we had a cubic inch of these electrons and we tried to count them it would take us, counting steadily 250 each minute, 19,000,000 times 19,000,000 times 19,000,000 years or 6.9 times 10^{21} years.

With this introduction, let us go back to our chance of 1 in 10^{157} . Let us suppose that we are taking this number of electrons, marking one, and thoroughly stirring it into the whole mass, then blindfolding a man and letting him try to find the right one. What chance has he of finding the right one? What kind of pile will this number of electrons make? They make an inconceivably large volume. (Stoner, SS, 109, 110)

Such is the chance of any individual fulfilling forty-eight prophecies.

- Josh McDowell, The New Evidence that Demands a Verdict, p. 194

And please understand that I am not saying God gets it right 99% of the time, but 100% of the time and His prophecies are not vague but very accurate and to the point! There is no one else who can do that, only GOD!

So God has told us what is going to happen before it happens showing us that He alone is God and that information that He has given to us is to help us witness of Him!

What do I mean by that?

I mean that knowing what is going to happen before it happens brings comfort to our hearts and our lives knowing that God is in control, He has told us these things.

Not only that, but now that we know what is going to happen, as we see these things take place, we can share it with others, others can see that we are not anxious, worried about what is happening and the reason why is that God has warned us and we are prepared!

I hope you are seeing the importance of knowing what is going to take place before it happens, it prepares us!

In the book of Jeremiah, we see God pronouncing judgment upon the Southern Kingdom of Judah for their idolatry, for their turning away from the Lord.

And in Jeremiah 6:16-17 we are told, “Thus says the Lord: ‘Stand in the ways and see, And ask for the old paths, where the good way is, And walk in it; Then you will find rest for your souls. But they said, “We will not walk in it.” Also, I set watchmen over you, saying, “Listen to the sound of the trumpet!” But they said, “We will not listen.””

I believe what Jeremiah was saying to the people living in the Southern Kingdom of Judah, the Lord is speaking to us as a nation and as individuals.

Go back to the old paths, the Word of God, it is good, it is healthy, and thus, if you want rest, then walk in them.

But, the children of Israel living in the Southern Kingdom of Judah said, “We will not listen.” And that is what we are seeing today as we look at the people living in this world, and those in the church, at least some of them, THEY WILL NOT LISTEN!

We also see this spoken of in II Chronicles 36:15-16, where we are told, “And the Lord God of their fathers sent warnings to them by His messengers, rising up early and sending them, because He had compassion on His people and on His dwelling place. But they mocked the messengers of God, despised His words, and scoffed at His prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people, till there was no remedy.”

Today, like back then, there are those who are speaking forth the truths of God found in the Word of God. They are warning people of the dangers that are out there, that they not only need to come to Christ, but also, to those who are saved, warning of the New Age and Eastern Mysticism that is coming into the church, the false doctrine that is flooding into the church.

And what is happening is that those who are standing up for the truths of God found in the Word of God are mocked, they are put down, they are called intolerant and unloving and-so-on!

But as people and so-called Christians move farther and farther from God, as they mock the messengers of God, despise the Word of God, there is coming a day, and I believe it is getting closer and closer, were they will pass that point of no return and there will be no remedy for them, God’s wrath will be poured out upon them!

I have broken these studies down into several points and they all have to do with the fact that “THEY WILL NOT LISTEN” to what God has said and they will, in the end, face the consequences of their actions.

This is how I have broken things down:

COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM – WE WILL NOT! (This will deal with the church and how it has become more worldly)

I FORMED YOU IN THE WOMB – DON'T TOUCH – WE WILL NOT! (This is dealing with the sanctity of life and how we don't look at life as being a gift of God)

APPLE OF MY EYE – ISRAEL – DON'T TOUCH – WE WILL NOT! (This is looking at Israel and how the world is becoming more anti-Semitic that will eventually bring us to the war of Ezekiel chapters 38 & 39 with Russia, Iran and Turkey being the key players in this battle)

FOLLOW ME – WE WILL NOT! (This will be looking at the world's turning from the Lord and they will embrace a global government. We will also be looking at how people will refuse to follow the Lord and they will embrace technology. And with this technology and the advances that have been made, it will ultimately allow the Antichrist and the false prophet to control all life on this planet)

SUM IT UP – WE WILL NOT! (This will focus on what is coming, the judgment of God upon a Christ rejecting world and what our responsibility should be until the church is called home)

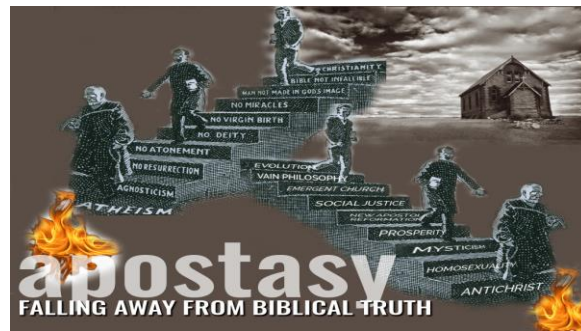

With that as our introduction, let's begin by looking at our first point:

1. COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM – WE WILL NOT!

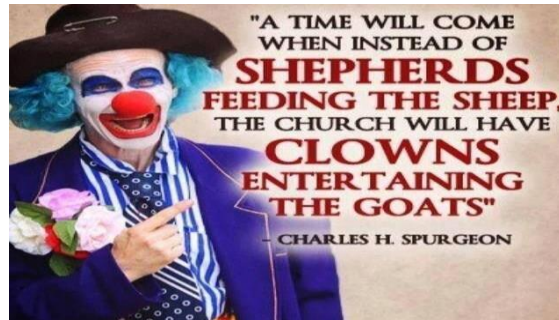

Now you can agree with me or not on this one, but I can't believe how far the church is moving away from God and His Word in the days we are living in.

And please understand that I am not saying we should not be in the world sharing our faith but isolate ourselves from unbelievers. No, we are to be in the world, but the world is not to be in us. And yet, that is exactly what we see happening.

Jesus warns us in Matthew chapter 24 that deception would play a big part of the last days scenario and that is what we are seeing today.

And the reason that the deception is growing is because people have itchy ears, they want their ears tickled, they are not interested in the truth and thus, they find teachers who will tell them what they want to hear.

We also see teachers that are more than happy to bring in worldly teaching, worldly philosophy, worldly ideas into the church, and thus, the apostasy that the Bible warns us about is upon us.

Remember what Paul wrote in II Corinthians 6:14-18, “Do not be unequally yoked together with unbelievers. For what fellowship has righteousness with lawlessness? And what communion has light with darkness? And what accord has Christ with Belial? Or what part has a believer with an unbeliever? And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you are the temple of the living God. As God has said: ‘I will dwell in them And walk among them. I will be their God, And they shall be My people.’ Therefore ‘Come out from among them And be separate, says the Lord. Do not touch what is unclean, And I will receive you. I will be a Father to you, And you shall be My sons and daughters, Says the Lord Almighty.’”

Not only what Paul said here in II Corinthians but listen to what James 4:4 tells us, “Adulterers and adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God.”

And what Paul wrote in Romans 12:2, “And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God.”

I think this is very clear. We are to come out from the world because the Lord has called us to!

We are not to be friends of the world because as we embrace the world’s ways, we become an enemy of God!

And we are not to be conformed to this world, look like them, act like them, talk like them, but we are to be transformed by God as He renews our minds as we are in the Word of God!

But look at what has happened in the church today. We say things like, “God wants me happy” instead of “God wants me to be obedient and faithful to His Word.”

We behave like the world. Christian divorce rates have surpassed the general public! Christians have fallen for the culture’s mantra that personal fulfillment is more important than marriage vows.

We have taken the Holy Spirit out of the picture in regard to how the church is to function and we have replaced the Holy Spirit with worldly ideas!

We see that thousands of evangelical churches have adopted the “market-driven” approach to their cities and try to woo people in as satisfied customers. So preaching about sin, holiness, and divine judgment are avoided as being too confrontational towards society.

And when we look at worship, much that passes for “worship” in contemporary churches would be difficult to distinguish from a secular rock concert!

I think that the late Francis Schaeffer was right when he called this embracing of our culture “the great evangelical disaster” and said further that “the evangelical church has accommodated [itself] to the world.”

And make no mistake about it, too many in the American Church are imitating our culture! Let me show you what I mean with this list and then I will give you some examples we are seeing today regarding this departure from the faith, from the truths of God found in the Word of God.

- Teaching that the Bible is not inspired and inerrant.
- Using books instead of the Bible in Bible study.
- Teaching that there is more than one way to God besides Jesus.
- Being embarrassed to say that Jesus is the only way to salvation.
- Teaching that there is no absolute right and wrong.
- Being careful to not offend anyone at the expense of biblical truth.
- Pastors preaching moralism instead of Christ centered messages.
- Approving of homosexuality.
- Approving of women pastors/elders.
- Not condemning the sins of society.

Psychology as an authority on human nature.

Use of politically correct terms of the world from the pulpit where those terms replace biblical values and truths.

Going to church as a social habit.

Prayer as a last resort.

Missionaries not sent out or supported.

Divorce statistics as common as secular society.

Evolution.

I guess Paul warned us that this will happen in the last days as he wrote in II Timothy 4:1-5, “I charge you therefore before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will judge the living and the dead at His appearing and His kingdom: Preach the word! Be ready in season and out of season. Convince, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables. But you be watchful in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.”

And that is exactly where we are at today. Now please understand I am not saying that every church or that we are the only church around that teaches the Word of God, but the numbers are dwindling down because that is not how you GROW a church today and that is what leaders and people are interested in doing instead of being obedient to God and His Word!

Let me give you a few examples to show you where we are at today.

The First Annual Christian Witches Convention Will Teach That Jesus Was a Sorcerer Who ‘Performed Alchemy’ (a power or process that changes or transforms something in a mysterious or impressive way) And the Bible Is Really A ‘Book Of Magic’

In an extended discussion with Witcher approximately two months ago on reconciling the practice of witchcraft and Christianity, Witcher, whose website says he “brings God’s messages to humanity through powerful teaching and training, allowing non-traditional followers to hear the divine voice of hope,” said the Bible is a “huge book of sorcery.”

“The Bible is a huge book of sorcery. You literally can’t get around that. You can’t get around Jesus being a magician. There’s just no way,” he said. . . .

The Rev. Valerie Love, the force behind the event who describes herself as a practicing Christian witch and an ordained minister of spiritual consciousness, recently launched the Covenant of Christian Witches Mystery School to help Christians tap into magic, which critics are condemning as “dangerous.” She insists there is nothing wrong with the idea of Christians practicing magic despite biblical warnings against it. . . .

“You’re talking about sorcery at its base understanding, it’s really just being able to change the natural by supernatural means. That’s really it. It’s an alchemical process. It’s to say that you turn water into wine. One, two fish and five loaves of bread, feeding the multitude – absolutely forms of sorcery. Walking on water defined the natural realm and laws that govern this physical plane. That’s all realms of sorcery. Magic is simply just using the props to do it,” he contended.

“You’re talking about the whole of Jesus’ adult ministry is all magic, all sorcery. Even if we just say ‘Jesus.’ Every particular miracle Jesus does defies human law, defies the laws of the universe and the world. So . . . you can’t really talk about being a Jesus follower without doing what he did which is magic.”

- <http://bit.ly/32t3W0i>

So there is nothing wrong with witchcraft, the Bible supports witchcraft?

All I can say is this, “Have you not read . . .?”

Listen to what we are told in Deuteronomy 18:10-12, “There shall not be found among you anyone who makes his son or his daughter pass through the fire, or one who practices witchcraft, or a soothsayer, or one who interprets omens, or a sorcerer, or one who conjures spells, or a medium, or a spiritist, or one who calls up the dead. For all who do these things are an abomination to the Lord, and because of these abominations the Lord your God drives them out from before you.”

That is pretty clear and thus, the Lord has called us to COME OUT and by their actions, by their words, many, who claim to be Christian, are saying, WE WILL NOT COME OUT!

Then we have . . .

The leftist, gay-affirming feminist who works for both Liberty University and the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission (ERLC) has finally admitted plainly that (in her opinion), “Much of what conservative Christianity believes about the Bible is wrong.”

. . . In case you aren't familiar . . . she is a self-proclaimed feminist who says abortion isn't murder, Karen Swallow Prior, she's a "research fellow" for the Southern Baptist Convention's ERLC (as we pointed out several days ago, "research fellow" is a made-up title handed out to leftists who work as hatchet men for Russell Moore, the former Democratic staffer who now runs the organization). Prior, who thinks pets go to Heaven because naming them "gives them personhood" is on record saying that animal cruelty bothers her more than abortion.

Prior praised the "It Gets Better Campaign," which is a pro-LGBT campaign targeted at youth and children and produced videos from Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton encouraging kids in their homosexuality. Prior endorsed the use of gay porn propaganda in high schools and colleges. Prior headlined an LGBT film-fest and fundraiser called Level Ground. Prior also endorsed the LGBT Revoice Conference, which has by now been resoundingly rejected as pro-gay by just about everybody who's anybody (except for Dr. Prior, who continues to endorse it in spite of it being gay-affirming). Prior has given affirming words towards the anti-cop hate-group, Black Lives Matter.

Prior ridiculed Mike Pence for following the Billy Graham Rule. Prior promotes and supports illegal immigration. Prior says that poor people in bad neighborhoods shouldn't have firearms. . . .

Make no mistake about it, there are wolves in the church and they are turning people away from the God of the Bible and drawing them to the God of self, where we decide what is right and what is wrong!

That is pretty clear and thus, the Lord has called us to COME OUT and by their actions, by their words, many, who claim to be Christian, are saying, WE WILL NOT COME OUT!

Let me deal with Hillsong for a minute and I don't want to offend anyone, that is not my intention. And if you are offended by what I am saying, that let me ask you "WHY?"

You see, if what they are doing is so right, then what I am telling you that they are doing should not offend you. But, if it does, maybe it is because you are embracing what they are saying. Pray about it.

Let me show you how bad things are getting, not just with Hillsong, but the church in general. And you may see some of these things going on in churches that you are familiar with or that you go to. If you do, ask them, "WHY?"

HILLSONG NYC: Josh Canfield and Reed Kelly are a proudly-out homosexual couple who preach the gospel of the LGBT Agenda. They became "engaged" last year and are planning a "wedding" for sometime in 2016. They feel no conviction of any kind for the lifestyle they lead, and yet, shockingly, they are allowed to lead the worship choir during church services at Hillsong in New York City. #HillsongNYC #HillsongUnited <http://www.nowtheendbegins.com/blog/?p=34483>

Hillsong NYC Church Has An 'Engaged' Openly Homosexual Couple Leading The Choir ★ Now The End Begins
nowtheendbegins.com

Josh Canfield and Reed Kelly, are a proudly-out homosexual couple who preach the gospel of the LGBT Agenda. They also lead the worship choir at Hillsong NYC Church.

We are told,

The Hillsong brand of Christianity is one marked with pursuing earthly treasures, entertainment, celebrity, and sensationalism.

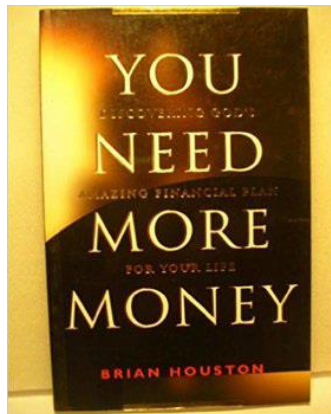

I like to call it “pop-Christianity”. Drawing from all the entertainment and commercial successes of the 21st century, pop-Christianity appeals to the temporal at the expense of the eternal.

This, however, is not unique to Hillsong-Christianity. It was the sociologist Christian Smith in his book Soul Searching whose research formulated the most popular beliefs that today’s professing Christians hold to.

Through interviewing hundreds of Christians, his research revealed that professing Christian’s most important beliefs about their faith are:

- God wants people to be good, nice, and fair to each other
- The central goal of life is to be happy and feel good about one’s self
- Good people go to heaven when they die

Smith coined the term Moralistic Therapeutic Deism (MTD) to describe this form of Christianity. It is moralistic, in that there are rules; deistic in that there is a god, and therapeutic because the goal of this faith is happiness.

Just look at the title of Brian Houston's (founder of Hillsong Church) book and you'll see a form of Christianity overly concerned with the one's material condition. Add to that the Hillsong worship experience that is more of a psychological experience than communing with the divine, and you have a faith that makes no sense to questions of morality, holiness, and truth.

As if right on cue, I talked to a high school aged boy this week who grew up in the church. He chuckled as I suggested that God is not primarily concerned with us being happy, as if to say "you're joking, right?"

The Hillsong phenomena may be a very visible and organized form of pop-Christianity, but any time you see a church losing focus on holiness, wisdom, truth, and beauty, and trade it in for entertainment, gimmickry, and focusing on the present world, it is making a mockery of Christianity. Unfortunately, our culture is full of pop-Christianity vying for members and donors instead of disciples.

. . . Hillsong Gold Coast might have been trying to top that when it literally turned its service into a circus. Hillsong Gold Coast has all the fun and fascination of a circus:

Not to be outdone, the historic Norwich Cathedral in England had a helter-skelter installed. The Rev. Jonathan Meyrick delivered a sermon atop the carnival ride, saying, “God is a tourist attraction,” and “God wants to be attractive to us . . . for us to enjoy ourselves, each other, and the world around us and this glorious helter-skelter is about just that”

A sacred cathedral becomes a joke This after the Anglican church also installed a mini-golf course in another UK cathedral.

But perhaps the circus is too yesterday for you. Well, if games are your thing, the Roman Catholic Church has designed a PokemonGo-style app for you to play. With “Follow JC Go”, you can “catch” all the saints of the Church for your pilgrimage.

A church in Texas had a basketball theme for March Madness, where an entire court was installed on the altar – err . . . stage.

“Christianity attractive?”, the answer is that Christianity is attractive. What is being done by pop-Christianity is clouding truth and beauty with sensation and indulgence. Pop-Christianity is to spiritual health what Fast Food is to physical health; a cheap alternative that simply appeases the appetites.

The Christian faith rests upon the fact that God is beauty, and all His works and His ways are full of His beauty. The Christian is simply left to soak up that beauty; to bask in the light of God’s goodness. This requires obedience, relationship, reflection, and dedication to the God who dwells with His people. No amount of buzzing sounds and flashing lights will sustain a lifelong faith.

What is happening in the church today?

It is simple. We are more interested in happiness than holiness. My feelings more than God's desires for our life! And now we are reaping what we have been sowing for years. Christians, and many times so-called Christians who embrace a Christianity that you will not find in the Bible!

And just when you think it might get better, it just gets more bizarre!

Listen to what the Roman Catholic Church is doing, even worse than Pope Francis blessing a Pachama Goddess idol a week earlier. Let me share that with you, this Pachama Goddess idol, and then I will share what the next idol they brought into worship.

Pope Francis Advances The One World Religion At Vatican With Female Shaman Leading 'Worship Service' Dedicated To Inca Mother Earth Goddess Pachamama At Amazon Synod

For Archbishop Viganó this is consistent with Francis' aberrant Abu Dhabi declaration that alleges that "God wills all religions." Viganó observes that Francis personally practiced the Pachamama cult in the Vatican gardens, in St Peter's Basilica and during the Synod closing Mass by placing an idolatrous plant on the altar. He calls this Pachamama show "an initiatory rite of the new religion" in order to align the Church with anti-human and anti-Christian strategies that dominate the globalist scene and are supported by those in power.

Pope Francis is working frantically to usher in the One World Religion, and is experiencing success on a level not seen by any pope since Constantine. In just 2019 alone, Pope Francis has created the official Chrislam logo, signed a covenant of ‘human fraternity and world peace’, and then commissioned a committee called the Catholic-Muslim Interfaith Council to make it all a reality.

Within mere months, that committee announced the opening in 2022 of the Abrahamic Family House, on the Saadiyat Island in Abu Dhabi. Wow, but after all that, Pope Francis now shows us he was just getting warmed up. Last month, he lead a worship service at the Vatican where he blessed the goddess Pachamama, the ‘mother of all the earth’.

- <http://bit.ly/2CmriKG>

And if you think that is bad, and it is, listen to what they also were involved in and you tell me if this is of God or not. You tell me if this Pope, who is supposed to be representing Jesus on this earth, is representing Him! We are told,

ROME, November 6, 2019 (LifeSiteNews) – A reconstruction of a pagan idol who demanded child sacrifice was stationed at the entrance of Rome’s Colosseum as part of a secular historical exhibition.

The presence of the idol raised particular concern among Catholics, as it was erected nine days before the Amazon Synod and the subsequent scandal over the veneration of the Pachamama idol at the Vatican.

“A reconstruction of the terrible deity Moloch, linked to Phoenician and Carthaginian religions and featured in the 1914 film Cabiria (directed by Giovanni Pastore and written by Gabriele D’Annunzio) will be stationed at the entrance to the Colosseum to welcome visitors to the exhibition,” stated a press release about the exhibit.

The statue of Moloch was erected nine days prior to the opening of the Amazon Synod, which was plagued with controversy from the beginning after a ceremony in the Vatican Gardens involving the pagan goddess “Pachamama” was held in the presence of Pope Francis and top-ranking prelates.

Some Catholics are distressed that the pagan god Moloch has been erected at the entrance to the Colosseum, which is one of many amphitheaters where Christians were tortured and executed for the entertainment of the pagan crowds.

“We were so excited the day we decided to go to the Colosseum,” Alexandra Clark told LifeSiteNews via email. She and her sister Tiffany were looking forward to visiting the site of Christian martyrdom.

“But the moment we got there the sight that greeted us was horrifying! Standing guard over the entrance was the colossal pagan statue of Moloch. It was placed in that prime spot so that everyone that entered into the Colosseum had to pass it,” she continued.

“It was like they put Moloch there to mock the sacred place where the holy martyrs spilled their blood for the True Faith!”

Clark saw a connection between the idol of Moloch and the Pachamama images that featured so prominently at the recently concluded Amazonian Synod.

“Both of these evil pagan idols required child sacrifices and both of them came to Rome at about the same time [as] the Synod,” she said.

The two sisters remained near the Moloch statue to gauge other reactions. Clark noted that a few others, including religious sisters, were clearly shocked by the giant figure.

The image of Moloch is modeled on a representation of the child-devouring demon found in the 1914 Italian silent film Cabiria. In the film the idol of Moloch, set up in a Punic temple, has a giant bronze furnace in his chest, into which hundreds of children are thrown. Cabiria, the heroine of the film, is threatened with this fiery fate.

The film’s depiction of the idol has a historical basis. Three ancient Greek historians all attest that it was customary in Carthage to burn children alive as offerings to the deity, whom they called Baal and Cronus or Saturn, the Roman god who, according to myth, ate his own children lest they supplant him. Moloch is also mentioned several times in the Book of Leviticus. Hebrew parents are forbidden to sacrifice their children to the god.

Why in the world would you put up something like that?

The only explanation is that they are in darkness and to exalt the name of the Lord Jesus Christ would go against what they believe. They have no problem promoting a false Jesus but not the Jesus of the Bible!

That is pretty clear and thus, the Lord has called us to COME OUT and by their actions, by their words, many, who claim to be Christian, are saying, WE WILL NOT COME OUT!

Now, what I mean by that is that the Protestant Church and the Roman Catholic Church are coming together.

Well, that is not exactly correct. What I should have said is that the Protestant Church has compromised what it believes, what the Bible teaches, to join the Roman Catholic Church.

And we should be aware of this and it should sound very familiar because this is exactly what the Bible says will happen.

There will be a false prophet, a leader and this is what we are told of this man, “Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb and spoke like a dragon. And he exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence, and causes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. And he deceives those who dwell on the earth by those signs which he was granted to do in the sight of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an image to the beast who was wounded by the sword and lived. He was granted power to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak and cause as many as would not worship the image of the beast to be killed.”

Revelation 13:11-15.

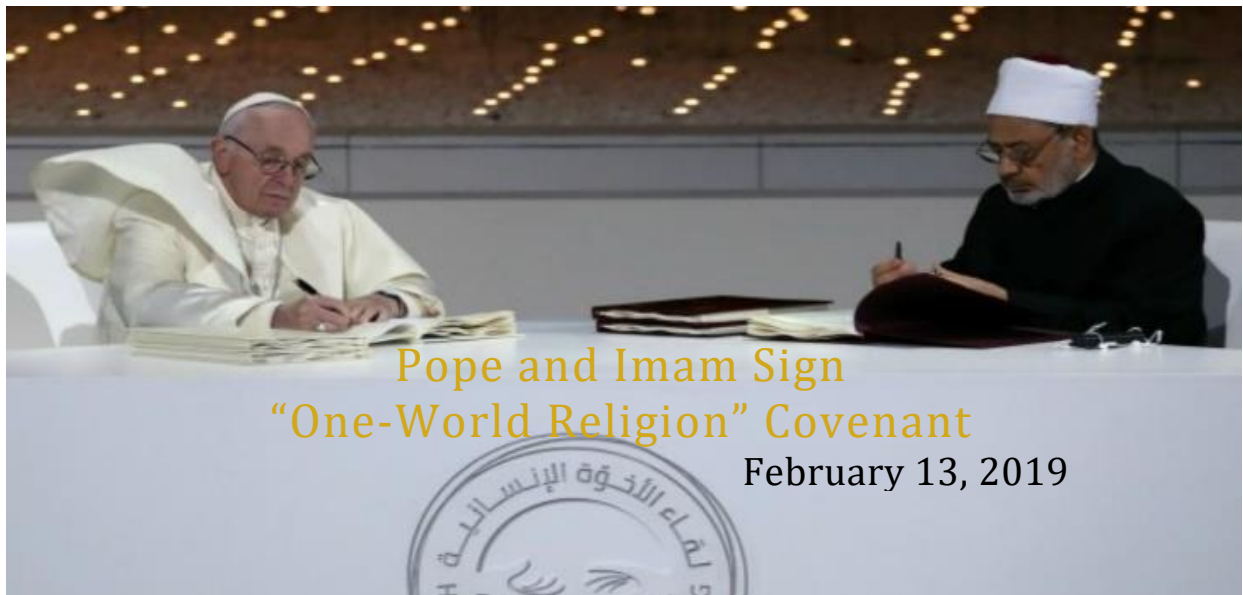

Notice the two horns, power and he appears to be a lamb. He appears to be a believer!

How do I know that he is not a believer?

Again, listen to what we are told in this first verse, Revelation 13:11, how he speaks. We are told that he speaks, “... like a dragon.”

It is this false prophet that will get the world to worship the Antichrist and his pseudo resurrection, appearing like Jesus Christ. They will worship the Antichrist as God!

Pope and Imam Sign
“One-World Religion” Covenant
February 13, 2019

Let me show you what the Roman Catholic Church and the Islamic church did back on February 13, 2019. We are told,

A historic document signed recently by Pope Francis and leading Muslim Imam Sheikh Ahmed al-Tayeb – whose official title is The Grand Imam of Al-Azhar – has many observers very concerned. This historic meeting between the head of the Roman Catholic Church and the most important Imam in Sunni Islam took place in Abu Dhabi at a gathering of religious leaders representing Christianity, Islam, Judaism, and other faiths.

On the surface the covenant entitled “A Document on Human Fraternity for World Peace and Living Together” stipulates its intention is to foster peace between nations, religions, and ethnic groups while combating extremism and violence. Obviously, this is an admirable effort worthy of support. Yet, certain ambiguous language in the document regarding God leads many to be cautious of the implications that may arise. Particularly, the idea that such a document could form the groundwork for a one-world religion!

. . . The document uses the same term; God, to simultaneously reference the God of the Bible and Allah. One glaring example of this categorizes Christians and Muslims as “We, who believe in God.” Perhaps equally problematic is that the document claims that “the pluralism and the diversity of religions” evident in the world were all intentionally “willed by God.”

Moreover, the document claims that the idea that people should “adhere to a certain religion” should be rejected. Therefore, according to this document the perfect will of God allows for hundreds of different religions that must all be considered as equally valid.

Such ideas have caused many to consider that the essence of this document is to push for a one-world religion. Sadly, this idea is not out of character for Pope Francis. In September 2015, during a stop at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Pope Francis stressed the unity between Christianity and Islam. Likewise, in January 2016 the Vatican released an extremely disturbing video in which Pope Francis declared that all of the major world religions are “seeking God or meeting God in different ways.”

And there is much more. Listen to carefully to what Robert Muller said, and what I want you to see is how important it is for the One World Religion to be around because it will help unite the One World Government. He said,

“We have brought the world together as far as we can politically. To bring about a true world government, the world must be brought together spiritually. What we need is a United Nations of Religions.”

- Robert Muller – Former Assistant Secretary General at the UN

I will talk about that in a minute, but first, look at how the Catholic Church is reaching out to the Protestant Church and how this is all coming together!

It has long been known that Francis Chan has been on the wrong path for quite some time. We previously reported on Chan's association with false teachers in the charismatic movement - such as Benny Hinn, Todd White, and Shawn Bolz. . . .

But our issues was less about Chan's preaching and more about the tacit approval he continually gives to rank heretics. Now, Chan has taken it a step further. Chan has teamed up with the mother of harlots and is giving full approval to Roman Catholicism as he sits, takes his shoes off, and allows Catholic priests to pray over him at the OneThing ecumenical conference.

The OneThing Conference is held annually at IHOPKC, the charismatic church run by Mike Bickle out of Kansas City. [International House of Prayer Kansas City]

When Chan invited the priests up on to the stage to pray for him, they spoke of each other as "brothers" who partake together in the Eucharist (a Roman Catholic perversion of the Lord's Supper) and discussed the desire to be united in their "common faith."

At one moment, a Catholic priest began to chant the Lord's prayer the way it is chanted in a Roman Catholic Mass while Chan sat there with his head bowed. The entire congregation joined in on the repetitious chant.

. . . Chan declines to give the gospel to a Catholic because "the Holy Spirit doesn't want me to."

We are also told,

Over the last twelve months, we have seen major efforts by the Vatican to build a bridge between Catholics and multiple religious leaders around the world. And with great success! It is the continuation of a decades-old attempt to gather all religions into an all-inclusive global religious community, and it is in the last stages of development. The question is not will a one-world religion be formed, but how close are we to its culmination?

In his book Perestroika, Mikhail Gorbachev said there are three root causes for war—political conflicts, religious conflicts and economic conflicts. His offered solution was a one-world government, a global religious system and a global economy. Unbeknownst to him, he proposed exactly what the Bible prophesies is going to happen.

On page 231, Mr. Gorbachev put together an all-embracing system of international security. Item number 4ii of this list states, “We must extirpate all genocide, apartheid and religious exclusiveness.” To extirpate means to “kill off”. Therefore, Mr. Gorbachev is saying that we must kill off or abolish all religiously exclusive individuals.

Individuals are considered religiously exclusive if they believe their religion is the only religion through which people can be saved. For example, Jesus Christ said, “Except you believe that I am the Messiah, you will die in your sins.” (John 8:24) This would be considered religious exclusiveness.

Please understand where you fit into this picture, YOU DON'T! We are the problem and I think we are going to see persecution arise for those who stand for the truths of God found in the Word of God! Not might, we will!

I realize that many Christians don't care or are even aware of what is going on in the church today. There is a push to unite the Roman Catholic Church and the Protestant Church under the leadership of the Pope.

If you doubt that, then listen to this report from 2015 and we have come a long way since then. We are told,

Although still some Protestants vehemently oppose to these plans, it's only a matter of TIME when the HOLY SPIRIT will move and make us ONE, under the VICAR OF CHRIST on earth - the POPE!

Following more than five hundred years of separation, American and European Protestant leaders met with Pope Francis last week to finalize the reunification of the two churches under the Holy See. The historic agreement is the result of a year's worth of unpublicized talks between Protestant leaders and the Vatican.

Prominent American pastors Joel Osteen and Rick Warren, respectively, as well as Justin Welby, the Archbishop of Canterbury, were among the Protestant delegation that met with Pope Francis last week. Pastor Warren, founder of Saddleback Church in Lake Forest, California, spoke with members of the international press in St. Peter's Square, saying, “Protestants, as a people, have a long history of heresy. The time for reconciliation is now in order to ensure a full and dogmatic transition into the folds of the Church.”

[We have a long history of heresy, are you kidding me? I think getting the Gospel message right is pretty important and the Roman Catholic Church gives to us a different Jesus, a different salvation. It is one of works plus Jesus and you will never find that in the Scriptures and it is a doctrine that will dam a person to Hell! But remember, this is from a leading protestant minister, Rick Warren and he has a huge following! How dangerous this is and it is leading the church to another Jesus!]

Moments before meeting with reporters, the entire Protestant delegation, for the first time ever, entered the confessional to take part, individually, in the Sacrament of Penance. “It’s important that we participate in these sacred rituals before asking our congregation to do the same,” Pastor Osteen said, adding that his time in confession was “an immensely moving experience.”

As Protestants around the world make the transition to Catholicism, many are wondering what, exactly, that means for them. “First and foremost we acknowledge the Pope’s infallibility with regard to universal moral declarations, the authority of Church magistrate, faith, and ex cathedra,” [ex cathedra means, with the full authority of office (especially of the Pope’s infallibility as defined in Roman Catholic doctrine)] said Father Cliff Brogan, a former Protestant pastor who was the first of the delegation to be ordained as a priest at the Vatican. “Secondly, we participate in the sacrament of the Eucharist by accepting the actual body and blood of Christ, an event known as Transubstantiation, at the conclusion of the holy mass.”

As part of their induction into the Catholic faith, all Protestants above the age of fifteen are required to undergo a Catholic Confirmation, one of three sacraments of initiation, out of seven total, which Catholics can receive. “Most, if not all, of us have been baptized,” said Father Brogran. “However, without formal Confirmation, our Protestant baptisms will be null, thus preventing us from entering the Kingdom of Heaven.”

Additionally, during the transition period, American Protestant families whose children attend Sunday School are to receive vouchers allowing them to participate in CCD programs at area Catholic churches.

In a show of support for the reunification under the Holy See, the United Kingdom announced Wednesday that it is taking steps to reunify Northern Ireland with The Republic of Ireland. The government of the UK has acknowledged the stark differences between the two countries, but according to one official, “We are, for the first time, one people, united under the Bishop of Rome, acting together as the bride and servant of Christ.”

- <http://bit.ly/3566l31>

And if you don't see this happening, this coming together of not only the Protestant Church with Rome, but the religions of the world, then your eyes are closed!

Listen to this,

This week, we received a letter to the editor that alerted us to plans for a “2020 Global Year of the Bible.” As you read the information below, please keep in mind, Lighthouse Trails does not oppose the idea that “billions” of people in the world could potentially read the Bible. Of course not! The underlying and significant story here is the ecumenical, “let’s-all-come-together-no-matter-what” aspect and the unspoken but obvious objective” to “engage in a global conversation” about the Bible in order to draw followers into specific belief systems. . . .

“Missionary leaders from over 34 countries convened at the Museum of the Bible on Monday morning to launch A.D. 2020 Global Year of the Bible, a first-of-its-kind evangelical initiative endorsed by Roman Catholic Pope Francis. . . . In a recorded video endorsement from the Vatican, Pope Francis praised the Global Year of the Bible initiative and told those leading it to ‘be encouraged.’”]

Promoters include over 500 leaders and organizations from 200 countries, YWAM, American Bible Society, Wycliffe Bible Translators, the World Evangelical Alliance and Call2All. Many other Bible translation and missionary groups from around the world are involved. One should read the entire article to get the full scope; it is staggering. And groups like PULSE and others who stage enormous gatherings of youth are also involved. The piece de resistance, however, comes at the end of the article which states that the entire endeavor is being heartily endorsed by Pope Francis in a recorded video from the Vatican.

We are seeing it folks, the one-world religion, not only forming, but gaining momentum and almost at the point of culmination. I do not know how any Bible-believing Christian can be in agreement with such a clearly ecumenical agenda. The Pope will very likely be the head of the false church described in Revelation. He is not “officially, visibly” that yet, but it is there, just waiting in the wings. Millions of evangelicals now eagerly agree with the Catholic Church and going along with what seem to be endless initiatives and efforts to “Christianize the world.” It is dominionism and the one-world religion—there is no other conclusion to come to.

- <http://bit.ly/33Opwxf>

And I was not going to deal with this subject, but this was just brought to my attention and it is showing me how much the church is buying into this idea that Jesus was a socialist. And the reason I want to bring this up is because I believe that socialism is what is needed to bring about the One World Government and it is something that is being promoted by the Pope and now Protestant churches throughout the world, even here in America!

This is from HuffPost, not a Christian organization to say the least and listen to what they are telling people!

As people around the world celebrate Christmas, it is worth remembering that Jesus was a socialist. Of course, he was born long before the rise of industrial capitalism in the 19th century, but his radical ideas have influenced many critics of capitalism, including many prominent socialists and even Pope Francis.

Pope Francis has consistently criticized the human and spiritual damage caused by global capitalism, widening inequality, and corporate sweatshops. Last week, he blamed the “god of money” for the extremist violence that is taking place around the world. A ruthless global economy, he argued, leads marginalized people to violence.

In 2013, he released a remarkable 84-page document in which he attacked unfettered capitalism as “a new tyranny,” criticized the “idolatry of money,” and urged politicians to guarantee all citizens “dignified work, education and healthcare.” . . .

This is why Sanders often said that the U.S. should learn from Sweden, Norway and Denmark — countries with greater equality, a higher standard of living for working families, better schools, free universities, less poverty, a cleaner environment, higher voter turnout, stronger unions, universal health insurance, and a much wider safety net Sounds anti-business? Forbes magazine ranked Denmark as the #1 country for business. The United States ranked #18.

- <http://bit.ly/37SuSuG>

Now I am sorry, but I have to correct that because it is wrong and yet you say this loud enough and long enough, like Bernie Sanders does, people will believe it. Sweden, Norway and Denmark are not socialist countries, they are very much pro-capitalism, the very thing that this article is speaking against!

And I can understand the world buying into this, but now we have those in the church who are telling us that Jesus was a socialist and they are opening the door for socialism to be brought into this country and will eventually bring us to the place where we are not a world leader any longer but just part of a One World Government!

Let me just share this with you, and it is obvious, but that does not seem to matter much today, Jesus was not a socialist! But let's answer that question, "Was Jesus a Socialist?"

Well, if socialism is nothing more than being kind to other people, then you might think the answer is yes. But you can be kind to other people and be a capitalist. John D. Rockefeller probably gave away more money than anyone in human history, and he was certainly a capitalist. Bill Gates and Warren Buffet have given away millions, too.

To get an accurate answer to our question, we need to define socialism.

Socialism is the concentration of power into the hands of government elites to achieve the following purposes: central planning of the economy and the radical redistribution of wealth. Jesus never called for any of that.

Nowhere in the New Testament does he advocate for the government to punish the rich – or even to use tax money to help the poor. Nor does he promote the ideas of state ownership of businesses or central planning of the economy.

In Luke 12, Jesus is confronted by a man who wants him to redistribute wealth. “Master,” the man says to Jesus, “tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.” Jesus replies, “Man, who made me a judge or divider over you?” and then he rebukes the man for being envious of his sibling.

How about Jesus’s Parable of the Talents (talents were a form of money in Jesus’s day)? A man entrusted three of his workers with his wealth. The two who invested the money and made a profit were praised and the one who buried his share so he wouldn’t lose any of it was reprimanded. Sounds a lot more like an endorsement for capitalism than socialism, doesn’t it?

Yes, Jesus spoke of the difficulty for a rich man to enter Heaven, but not because having money is evil. It’s not money; rather, it is the love of money, the New Testament tells us, that leads to evil. Jesus was warning us not to put acquisition of money and material possessions above our spiritual and moral lives.

Was Jesus promoting a socialist model when he kicked the “moneychangers” out of the Temple in Jerusalem? Again, the answer is no. Note the location where the incident occurred: it was in the holiest of places – God’s house. Jesus was not angry at buying and selling in and of themselves; he was angry that these things happened in a house of prayer. He never drove a “moneychanger” from a marketplace or from a bank.

Jesus advises us to be of “generous spirit” – to show kindness, to assist the widow and the orphan. But he clearly means this to be our responsibility, not the government’s.

Consider Jesus's Good Samaritan story. A traveler comes upon a man at the side of a road. The man had been beaten and robbed and left half-dead. What did the traveler, the Good Samaritan, do? He helps the unfortunate man on the spot, with his own resources.

Ask yourself: To help the poor, would Jesus prefer that you give your money freely to the Salvation Army, for example, or have it taxed by politicians to fund a welfare bureaucracy? Progressives like to point out that Jesus said, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

But that has absolutely nothing to do with high taxes or wealth redistribution. It was the seed for the idea of separating church and state. It certainly wasn't the same as saying that whatever Caesar says is his must then be so, no matter how much he demands or what he intends to use it for.

So, there is no evidence that Jesus was a socialist. And there is lots of evidence that he supported free markets.

In addition to the Parable of the Talents, Jesus offers his Parable of the Workers in the Vineyard. In it, a landowner hires some laborers to pick grapes. Near the end of the day, he realizes he needs more workers to get the job done.

To recruit them, he agrees to pay a full day's wage for just one hour of work. When one of the laborers who had worked an entire day complains, the landowner answers, "I am not being unfair to you, friend. Didn't you agree to work for a denarius? Don't I have the right to do what I want with my own money?" That's a testament to the principles of supply and demand, of private property, and of voluntary contracts, not socialism.

Jesus never endorsed the forced redistribution of wealth. That idea is rooted in envy, something that he, and the Tenth of the Ten Commandments, railed against. Most importantly, Jesus cared about helping the less fortunate. He never would have approved anything that undermines wealth creation. And the only thing that has ever created wealth and lifted masses of people out of poverty is free market capitalism. Read the New Testament. The plain meaning of the text is loud and clear: Jesus was not a socialist.

He couldn't be. He loved people, not the state.

- <http://bit.ly/34z7OyN>

The reason I am closing this section on the falling away of the church and the embracing of this One World Religion is that this will play a vital role in establishing the One World Government and the church will be backing this all up because it has fallen so far away from God that Jesus is outside the church knocking to get in.

If you don't believe that, then read Jesus' letter to the church in Laodicea in Revelation chapter 3!

I think that is pretty clear and thus, the Lord has called us to COME OUT and by their actions, by their words, many, who claim to be Christian, are saying, WE WILL NOT COME OUT!

2. I FORMED YOU IN THE WOMB – DON'T TOUCH – WE WILL NOT!

I am not going to spend a lot of time on this but once again, when it comes to abortion or the murder of children in the womb, the church is buying into it, supporting it, even with their votes in elections. Now they may say that they don't support abortion but by supporting these candidates, of course you are.

Remember what Paul said in Romans 1:32, “Who, knowing the righteous judgment of God, that those who practice such things are worthy of death, not only do the same but also approve of those who practice them.” Again, you may not be doing these things, but if you support politicians that do, or even churches, denominations, pastor's that do, then you are just as guilty!

I will show you how bad it is getting in the church today regarding this issue and the reason so many don't get this is that they don't know the Scriptures and thus, they are being led astray!

Clergy gather in a prayer circle before the clinic blessing at Whole Woman's Health in Austin, Texas, on July 9, 2019

The other day, I joined clergy from many faiths in a worship service that, like many others, featured poetry, music, ritual and prayer. But this service was different. Its purpose was to bring blessings on a reproductive health clinic that provides abortions.

With their presence as well as their prayers, 10 diverse faith leaders proclaimed what too few people have heard: Religious people can be pro-choice, not in spite of their faith but because of it.

Too few have heard this, in large part because Christian conservatives have been exceptionally loud and strident in condemning abortion as religiously and morally unacceptable. But their religious understanding of abortion is not the only understanding. It never has been.

The blessing of the Whole Woman's Health clinic in Austin on Tuesday (July 9) in cooperation with Texas Freedom Network and the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Choice is one recent example of a long tradition of progressive faith communities supporting women making reproductive decisions according to their own conscience.

Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Unitarian Universalists, United Church of Christ members, Disciples of Christ members and Reform and Reconstructionist Jews are among the people of faith who affirm individuals, free of others' judgment, considering all options for responding to a pregnancy.

While these progressive traditions differ on some matters of belief, they share a core set of values. They believe that each person is created in the divine image with the right and capability to make decisions about their own bodies and their own lives.

Because our prophetic teachings emphasize caring for our neighbors, progressive faith communities are called to respond to pregnant people with compassion and affirmation. We know that making reproductive decisions can be hard work spiritually and emotionally, yet we believe God accepts the decisions of conscience each person makes.

Bestowing blessings on an abortion clinic, however, is more than symbolic. Tuesday's ceremony - and others like it that have been held in Maryland, Ohio and Washington, D.C. - brought solace and encouragement to the clinic's clients and the health care professionals who serve them.

During our ceremony in Austin, I had the honor of sharing journal entries from past clients. As I spoke their words of honesty and wisdom, I was moved to tears by their strength, resolve and deep faith. We recognize that those who receive care at the clinic may struggle with stigma, shame and guilt that originates not necessarily from within themselves, but from messages taught by their families, communities and places of worship.

Some may feel alone. Some may feel conflicted. Some must struggle to gather the funds needed to pay for an abortion or to arrange for the procedure at the right phase of pregnancy. And their arrivals at the clinic often begin with the unnerving experience of passing through a crowd of angry, jeering protesters.

Physicians, nurses and other staff members at abortion clinics are also subject to intense stress from religiously sponsored foes of abortion who accost them, question their morality, vandalize the clinics and threaten the safety of these professionals and their families.

Our calling as progressive faith leaders is to bear witness to the pain caused in the name of faith and to respond with words and actions rooted in love, compassion and understanding. . . .

A physician who joined in a clinic blessing ceremony in Washington, D.C., revealed how the blessing might continue to make an impact in the future. She said that now she would be able to tell clients who may be frightened or emotional, “This is a blessed space.” The Whole Woman’s Health clinic in Austin is also a blessed space, not only because of our ritual of blessing on Tuesday but because providing reproductive health services has always been sacred work. May progressive people of faith continue to join together in the face of today’s stark political and social climate. Together may we create even more spaces that accept and welcome each person’s own reproductive decisions.

And yet, the Bible tells us that it is God who formed us in the womb and now we feel that we have the right to kill what God is creating. Shame on us!

And that really sheds so much light on what the Roman Catholic Church did with allowing a statue of the god Molech to be put on display for all to see and embrace. The church is for abortion and where will it end?

What about the murder of children that are already born but are mentally challenged, should we put them to death?

This is already happening!

ICELAND, August 15, 2017 (LifeSiteNews) – A new report from CBS News details how 100 percent of babies in Iceland who are diagnosed with Down syndrome prenatally are aborted.

This has “almost completely eliminated Down syndrome births since the test began in the early 2000s,” Elaine Quijano of CBS explained. She interviewed an abortion counselor, an Icelandic scientist, and the mothers of children with Down syndrome.

She also interviewed an Icelandic woman who has Down syndrome.

People “just see Downs. They don’t see me,” she told Quijano. “It doesn’t feel good. I want people to see that I am just like everybody else.” In 2009, only three babies with Down syndrome were born in Iceland. Only one mom in the entire country has two children with Down syndrome. She lives in Hellissandur, on the northern coast.

“Yes, of course” some women express guilt at aborting their disabled babies, the abortion counselor told Quijano. The pro-abortion counselor showed her a prayer card with the footprints of an aborted baby. Parents can keep these footprints and prayer cards as a memento of their aborted child.

She said she tells women, “This is your life. You have the right to choose how your life will look like.”

“We don’t look at abortion as murder,” she continued. “We look at it as a thing that we ended. We ended a possible life that may have had huge complications.” It is “preventing suffering for the child and also the family.”

“The media sell this little three-year-old, nice cute one,” the abortion counselor continued. “But you have to look at Down syndrome as a spectrum. You have this little cute one who was Down syndrome ... and then we have people who [have] Down syndrome plus lots of other complication[s].”

She said she sees life’s moral decisions as “gray” rather than “black and white.”

The Icelandic mother of a young child with Down syndrome asked Quijano, “What kind of society do you want to live in?”

One expectant mom told Quijano she decided to forgo the test because “it wouldn’t make a difference, actually.” She said she works with autistic children and has a brother-in-law who has Down syndrome. “I think it’s just horrible, the statistics.”

The CBS report pointed out that the country’s socialized healthcare system requires doctors to tell women about the option of prenatal testing for genetic defects.

There is “some truth” to the notion that informing women of this steers them toward abortion, a technician who does the prenatal tests said. “Obviously, if you didn’t mention it, then you wouldn’t be thinking about it.”

“My heart breaks for the innocent babies aborted in Iceland because society has deemed certain people undeserving of life,” Kristan Hawkins, president of Students for Life of America, told LifeSiteNews. “My children with genetic disabilities are loved and valued the same as my children without. I pray this report will wake up the people of Iceland to the discriminatory killing occurring amongst them. I pray they wake up before even more human beings fall victim to this disgusting mindset.”

- <http://bit.ly/2OTWkQ0>

I hope you can see how dangerous this is for the unborn and it is not far off that we are putting to death children that have been born!

I guess that sums it up for us, and I will close with this, the god Molech was a god the pagan's worshiped and yet, the Jews began to embrace this god and place their children in the hands of this god. And these hands were heated up in the fire and the children were burned to death! We have not learned the lesson and the judgment that came upon the Jews for what they were doing, the murder of children!

That is pretty clear and thus, the Lord has called us to COME OUT and by their actions, by their words, many, who claim to be Christian, are saying, WE WILL NOT COME OUT!

It is as we are told in Ezekiel 20:30-32, “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord God: “Are you defiling yourselves in the manner of your fathers, and committing harlotry according to their abominations? For when you offer your gifts and make your sons pass through the fire, you defile yourselves with all your idols, even to this day. So shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live,” says the Lord God, “I will not be inquired of by you. What you have in your mind shall never be, when you say, ‘We will be like the Gentiles, like the families in other countries, serving wood and stone.’”

May we not follow after the things of the world, but may we follow after God!
